languages, and the plan has been proved successful. It has had to contend against ports from all sections of the snow that one of the worst blizzards of the season set in yesterday afternoon, and still prevails.

At Gaylord a passenger train going north on the Michigan Central is buried in eight feet of snow just outside of the village. All business is suspended.

Reed City reports that trains running are badly delayed, and many have been abandoned.

At Cedar Springs and Central Lake railroad traffic has been abandoned.

At Petoskey all traffic is at a standstill.

BADLY SCALDED THE FIREMAN.
Nobody Else Hurt by Explosion of a Moving Locomotive in Danbury, Ct.

DANBURY, Ct., Feb. 21, 1895. The boiler of a locomotive attached to a train exploded this morning about three miles west of this city, and Alfred DeHeweller of White Plains, N. Y., the fireman, was shot out of the cab into a snow bank. He was badly scalded by escaping steam.

The engineer escaped unhurt. The train was approaching Danbury, and was running at a speed of 15 miles an hour, when the explosion occurred.

The noise made by the explosion was terrific, and awakened half of the people in Danbury, and many left their houses, thinking an earthquake was in progress. Several bank officials hurried to their banks, supposing that an attempt had been made to blow open the vaults, and the police were also deceived by the sound, and set out upon a hunt for safe breakers.

There was plenty of water in the boiler at the time of the explosion, and it is probable that the bursting was due to some imperfection in the metal. The rent was beneath the boiler near the fire box. The escape of the engineer and fireman from death is miraculous.

The road was blocked by the accident for several hours on account of the tearing up of the track.

REQUIEM MASS FOR MRS. LITTLE.
A high mass of requiem was sung over the remains of Mrs. Lucy Little, widow of John Little and mother of Patrolman J. Warren Little of division 13, at St. Joseph's Church, Roxbury, this morning.

Rev. Fr. Maloney officiated. A number of beautiful floral designs were contributed, among which was a standing cross from the officers and patrolmen of division 13.

A long line of carriages followed the remains to the family lot in Dorchester cemetery.

PUT OVER FOR ANOTHER WEEK.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21, 1895. The Senate committee on commerce this morning again laid over till next week the nomination of George M. Hanson, to be collector of customs for the Passamaquoddy (Me.) district.

Chinese Attack Japanese Outposts at Kumo Chenzu, but Are Defeated—More Officials to Be Sent to the China Frontier.

LONDON, Feb. 21, 1895. The Morning Post has a dispatch from Tokio saying that the supplementary war budget calls for 100,000,000 yen instead of 10,000,000, the sum reported on Tuesday. This grant will make Japan's total war expenditure 250,000,000 yen.

The Central News correspondent in Tokio says: "Premier Count Ito made a speech in the Chamber yesterday on the supplementary budget for the expenses of the war with China. He received the undivided attention of all members, and was applauded loudly by all when he resumed his seat."

A dispatch dated at Kai Ping on the 17th says that 1000 Chinese troops attacked the Japanese outposts at Kumo Chenzu in the morning, and were repulsed promptly. The Chinese retreated precipitately, leaving 30 dead on the field. The number of wounded had not been ascertained. The Japanese suffered no losses.

A dispatch to the Globe from Tien Tsin says an imperial decree issued on Feb. 19, announces that Taoist King and Gen. Yeh-Chi-Cao have been tried by the board of punishment and condemned to imprisonment until autumn, when they will be beheaded. "This punishment is inflicted upon them for the loss of Port Arthur."

The Russian war department has ordered that the infantry battalion stationed at Stretensk, on the Chinese frontier, be increased to five battalions. The increase will be made by means of mobilizing troops in the vicinity.

OUTGUT TO SUPPORT JAPAN.
PARIS, Feb. 21, 1895. The Eclair declares that Europe ought to support Japan in the dismemberment of China, but nevertheless ought to insist upon the neutrality of Korea, in regard to which France is in accord with Russia.

POOL AND WHIST AT DEDHAM.
Opening of Tournament Between Catholic Union and the Cycle Club.

A joint pool and whist tournament between the Dedham Young Men's Catholic Union and the Dedham Cycle Club, was opened last night in McLane's Hall, Dedham Centre. The attendance was very large.

The games in each series will number 20. The scores last night resulted:

FOOTBALL.
Team 1—Richard H. Weetman, D. C. G., 60; Charles E. Green, Y. M. C., 30; Thomas Hoban, Y. M. C., 30.

WHIST.
Team 1—Charles A. Barton and William C. Walter, D. C. G., 25; T. Francis Maloney and Joseph P. Kirby, Y. M. C., 25.

Team 2—John Delaney and John P. Allen, Y. M. C., 25; John Walter and August F. Hammer, D. C. G., 25.

The next series of games in the tournament will be played at the Dedham Centre on Wednesday evening.

Legislature passed a bill to hold property worth $2,000,000.

EAST NORTHFIELD, Feb. 21, 1895. The treasurers of the two Moody corporations, the Northfield Seminary and the Mt. Hermon Boys' School, have asked the mercantile committee of the Legislature for power to increase the legal holding of property for each corporation to $2,000,000.

This shows what the trustees of the school are looking forward to. Under the general law charitable institutions have the right to hold property up to $500,000. It shows the proportions of Mr. Moody's work in the educational line when it is stated that in both the schools for boys and girls the limit has nearly been reached.

The Mt. Hermon school has an endowment fund of $250,000, and of this amount $175,000 has come from outside of this state. More than $40,000 has come from Great Britain.

It is known that a considerable number of persons living in and out of the state have made wills bequeathing large amounts to these schools. In one case it is stated that the amount is more than $100,000.

At Mt. Hermon the 37 buildings have cost more than $200,000, and the 700 acres of land about $13,000. At East Northfield the amount paid for building is even larger. The tuition fee and board is placed at $100 a year, while the actual cost is nearly twice that sum. The hearing before the legislative committee will be held March 1.

WILL BE WEAK IN THE FIELD.
Prospects for the Williams College Base Ball Team Not More Than Fair.

(Special Dispatch to the Boston Herald.)
WILLIAMSTOWN, Feb. 21, 1895. The base ball prospects at Williams College this year cannot be said to be more than fair. While the team is likely to be a little stronger at the bat than that of last year, it will probably be much weaker in the field.

The places to be filled are first base, shortstop, third base and left field. The players in which were strong in the field last year, while they proved especially in the championship games weak at the bat. It is generally conceded that there is much batting material in the college at present.

The team will probably be weaker in the "box" this year. Clarke, the first substitute pitcher last year—a promising and valuable man—has left college, and this leaves the work in this department almost altogether in the hands of Lewis. Still, some of the other men who are working at present in the cage may develop into good twirlers.

Most of them show good speed and curves. The chief failure seems to be a lack of control over the ball.

Capt. Draper will probably do all the catching again this year, and will probably fill his place even better than he did last year.

The other candidates for this position, especially Davis and Ashton, are promising men. In case Capt. Draper is disabled at any time, either one could go in and catch a good game.

While he may not take his old position at shortstop on account of a weak ankle, which was injured at a game early last spring, he will be seen in the field somewhere, probably at first base.

Is a valuable man anywhere on the diamond, and he is a hard hitter.

The other candidates have not declared themselves yet, but it is expected that there will be four or five players for each of the four positions to be filled.

Disipated Youth Angry at His Disinheritance by His Father Has Probably Fatally Wounded His Sister, Her Husband and a Boy—He Gives Himself up to the Police.

PEKING, Ill., Feb. 21, 1895. Albert Wallace, a dissipated young man, yesterday shot his sister, her husband, O. B. Bolby, and a boy living with the family. The wounds are thought to be fatal.

The murderous assaults grew out of a feud caused by the disinheritance of Wallace by his father.

Wallace surrendered.

WILL HAVE LITTLE EFFECT.
Prof. Stage's Opinion of Harvard Faculty's Ruling in Regard to Foot Ball.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 21, 1895. Prof. Stage yesterday, speaking of the vote of Harvard's faculty on the foot ball question, said: "Harvard's faculty has always, or nearly always, taken a position hostile to intercollegiate sports. I presume this fact is due largely to President Eliot."

"When I was at New Haven Harvard men were discouraged by this same spirit. In the fall of 1886 foot ball was positively forbidden, and Harvard was not represented on the gridiron. About the same time base ball also fell under the ban. But anybody who knows anything about the history of Harvard's athletics knows that these frequent prohibitions have had little effect even when enforced, and have been quickly followed by relaxation."

"Personally, I do not think the Harvard ruling will have any effect."

NOMINATIONS IN HULL.
A citizens' caucus was held in Hull last night, to nominate town officers.

Alfred A. Galliano presided, and James Jeffrey was secretary.

The nominations were: Moderator, Z. Taylor Harrington; clerk, James Jeffrey; treasurer, Z. Taylor Harrington; assessor, three years, William H. Mitchell; school committee, three years, Henry H. Burr; constables, John I. Mitchell, Jacob W. Smith, Eugene Mitchell, Frank M. Reynolds; H. Webster Mitchell, Louis F. Galliano, H. Webster Mitchell, Eugene Mitchell, Jr.; park commissioners, three years, Joseph T. Galliano; sinking fund commissioner, James Jeffrey; tax collector, James Jeffrey; auditors, William H. Harrington, Joseph J. Costello, trustees of school, H. Mitchell, Frank M. Reynolds; H. Webster Mitchell, Louis F. Galliano, H. Webster Mitchell, Eugene Mitchell, Jr.; board of health, Frank M. Reynolds (two years), George H. Hatchard (one year).

WERE TO HAVE BEEN TRIED TODAY.
(Special Dispatch to the Boston Herald.)

ROCKLAND, Feb. 21, 1895. Fred Buttrum, who assumed the management of the Sherman House a few weeks ago, and Joseph W. Swift, a former proprietor of the hotel, have been missing since last Saturday.

The house was recently raided by the police, and the proprietor and his two assistants were arrested for the illegal sale of liquor. The three men were sentenced to pay fines aggregating a little more than $200. They appealed, and their cases were set down for trial.

Metropolitan Water Supply Scheme.
(Special Dispatch to the Boston Herald.)

CLINTON, Feb. 21, 1895. The citizens of Clinton are awakening to the importance of the proposed metropolitan water supply scheme, and efforts will probably be made to have some at least of the plans opposed.

There are two questions of deep concern in this town, one of them being how seriously, if at all, the carrying out of the plans will affect the future of the town's chief industry—the Lancaster gringham mills.

The other relates to the sewage system adopted some years ago by the town. It is feared that by the possible diminution of the supply of water in the south branch of the Nashua river, into which Clinton sewage is emptied, the success of the whole town system may be endangered.

The construction of the proposed monster dam not far above the Lancaster mills, while not causing the flowage of a very large area of land in this town as compared with that included at West Boylston, would take real estate on which a high value has already been placed.

There is a compensating feature, however, to Clintonians in the fact that if the great scheme is consummated, the tracks of the Central Massachusetts railway, which at present do not pass within 2½ miles of the business portion of the town, will, of necessity, be moved to a much more desirable and convenient point for them.

It is expected that some action will be taken at the coming annual town meeting, which will show the disapproval of the citizens of Clinton of the scheme as a whole.

TWO WEDDINGS AT HYDE PARK.
There were two weddings this morning at the Church of the Most Precious Blood, Hyde Park, the principals being Mr. Arthur E. Devlin and Miss Anna E. Monaghan, and Mr. Joseph J. McKee and Miss Isabella King.

Receptions were held this afternoon at their respective residences on Loring street and Central Park avenue.

by all means let them come into office on the most incipient policy with which a great English party was ever identified.

The conservative evening newspapers are jubilant over the difficulties which confront the ministry, but are unanimous in deprecating such action as will sacrifice the interests of India to those of any English county.

The Globe suggests that the cabinet take into consideration the Egyptian crisis.

FATE OF THE GOVERNMENT.

It Largely Depends on the Action of Mr. Balfour—Long Session of the Cabinet.
LONDON, Feb. 21, 1895. Lord Rosebery and Mr. H. H. Fowler, secretary of state for India, held a conference at 10 o'clock this morning, and the cabinet met at 11 A. M. an hour earlier than usual. The object of the meeting was the consideration of Sir Henry James' intended motion to adjourn the House of Commons to direct attention to the Indian cotton duties.

All the members of the cabinet were present. The consensus of opinion is that the fate of the government depends upon the action of Mr. Balfour. If that gentleman speaks strongly in favor of Mr. James' motion, the ministry will without doubt be overthrown. If he leaves his followers a free hand it is likely that some Conservatives, such as Sir Richard Temple and others, who are ex-Indian officials, will vote with the government.

Mr. Balfour was suffering this morning from a slight attack of influenza, and it is possible that he may not be present at today's sitting of the House. The Star and the Westminster Gazette denounce the attitude of the Conservatives in giving preference to the local trade interests over those of the empire by supporting a motion which, if successful, will mean the bankruptcy of India.

The Pall Mall Gazette expresses anxiety to see the government defeated at the earliest possible moment, but not on James' motion, which is simply a case of Lancashire versus India. The bimetalists are canvassing on behalf of Sir Henry James' motion on the ground that the finances of India will be improved by changes in the currency, and not by the imposition of cotton duties.

SIR HENRY JAMES' MOTION.

He Introduces It in the Commons and Speaks on Indian Cotton Duties.
LONDON, Feb. 21, 1895. In the House of Commons today Sir Henry James introduced his motion to adjourn the House for the purpose of calling attention to the Indian cotton duties.

In support of the motion he said there had always been a feeling in Lancashire that an import duty in India was a lead weight to the trade. He then proceeded to review the history of Indian tariffs since an early period of the present century.

IN THE HANDS OF THE JURY.

Trial of Capt. Howgate for Embezzlement Nearly Ended.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21, 1895. At 10:30 o'clock Judge McComas, in the criminal court, began delivering his charge to the jury in the Howgate case, and did not conclude until 12 o'clock.

The defence noted exceptions to nearly every instruction given by the court. The case was given to the jury at 12:45.

Amount of Income Tax Which Uncle Sam Will Collect in This City.

Those subject to the income tax are beginning to take considerable interest in the law.

Hundreds of application blanks have been given out by Collector of Internal Revenue Edward Donovan during the past three weeks, and the demand for them is growing greater. The collector has not an application blank in his office today, as his supply has run out, but he has telegraphed to Washington for more.

With the assistance of the directory the force connected with the office has sent hundreds of blanks to business and professional men in all parts of the district.

Many are reluctant about paying their tax until the test case at Washington is finally settled, while others have already complied with the law. Collector Donovan has deposited with the sub-treasurer up to date about 10,000 application blanks.

Several individuals have received from the collector notices to pay their taxes. Three new deputies will be appointed by him next Monday to assist in the work pertaining to the income tax.

The deputies connected with the office are kept busy every day answering questions and explaining the law to those who come directly under its provisions. Blanks have been sent to all the lawyers in the city, but many of them will not be obliged to fill the blanks out, as they do not receive an income large enough.

The tax collected in this district will amount to about $1,000,000.

Collector Donovan has received many inquiries of late in regard to the different sections of the income tax, and has given a decision in every case which has been found to be correct. He asked Commissioner Miller to interpret the sections, and this morning he received the following important reply:

In item 6, page 2, form 355, premium on bonds, stocks, notes or coupons, there shall be included all gains from the sale of the bonds, stocks, notes or coupons purchased in the year 1894—that is the difference between the cost and the selling price. The word stocks is appropriately placed in said item, and should not be stricken out in any computation of income thereunder.

A trustee is not required to make any return of the income of his beneficiary where such net income does not exceed the sum of $500. This would be true where the income is less than $500, omitting dividends from corporations paying the income tax on their net profits. The trustee in all cases should make return and pay the tax for the person for whom he acts, and he is not allowed in any instance to assume that such person will pay the income tax upon the taxable income from his estate.

In view of the fact that corporations and individuals make returns and pay tax thereon at the same time, it is necessary that the administration of the law to allow the individual taxpayer to assume in making his return, that the corporation from which he received dividends will comply with the law in making return and paying the income tax, and therefore the dividend received may be deducted without requiring further evidence that the tax thereon has been paid by the corporation.

FRAUD IN FOUR COUNTIES.

Committee to Investigate Tennessee Election Decides to Begin Work.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 21, 1895. The legislative committee appointed to investigate charges of fraud in the Governor's election met yesterday and examined the pleadings in the contest case by counties for the purpose of seeing if the charges of fraud in each county were specific enough for an investigation.

After examining the specifications, the committee last night decided that charges in Anderson, Bedford, Blount and Campbell counties are sufficiently specific to warrant investigation. The committee will leave the city in the morning.

It would be well to have the houses tested the new variety descriptions of the houses the plants were grown in, the composition of the soil as nearly as possible, the kinds the new comerssemble, etc. It does not hold that, because a variety fails in one section of the country, that it is altogether useless. We have many examples today that contradict that theory—such as the "Mrs. Fisher," the "Lizzie McGowan" and the "Tidal Wave."

"I sincerely hope, gentlemen, you will take some action on these remarks. If the plan I have outlined be carried out successfully we would have for our meeting the most interesting paper our members ever listened to, besides, it would obviate the necessity of any of us writing a review of new carnation."

"I cannot say that I am in favor of showing only six blooms of a new variety in competition for prizes. We should have at least 50 blooms. One can sometimes show six and take the honors, whereas, if the number be quite different, this point would create a vast difference on general effect stem and calyx."

"None of us today would think of disseminating a new variety without having a thousand plants of it, and if 50 blooms cannot be shown, the variety would not be worthy of being put in competition."

"I would also advocate the showing of a plant or two of new varieties. This would give us a chance to see their habit and character of growth."

"It has been advanced by some of our members that carnation growing for cut flowers and for cuttings should be two distinct things. I cannot agree with that statement. I claim you must have a carnation in the best possible condition to produce the best flowers; and the cuttings taken from this stock should be the best we can secure. There is no science displayed in growing carnations for cutting, but lots of it in producing the best flowers."

"This fact may be illustrated as follows: Any grower desiring to change his stock of any variety would naturally first look at the quality of the blooms the stock was producing before dispensing with his own, as there would be little satisfaction in rearing stock that was not superior to that which he was growing. If you follow up a man's flowers, you can readily conclude what his stock is like. No poor, half-grown plant ever throws first-class flowers."

The nomenclature committee reported that with a vast list of varieties registered, less than 50 are now grown, many being extinct. During the past year 65 new varieties have been registered. The following judges were chosen for the present exhibition: Edwin Lonsdale, C. H. Allen and T. Southworth, Capt. Warren of division 4 agreed with Capt. Pierce as to getting evidence and added that by keeping officers stationed at the places used for such purposes not a pool room exists in Boston today so far as he knew.

The society determined that entries for the exhibition would be closed at 2 P. M. today. Standing committee made a report recommending the closing of the exhibition at 2 P. M. and the striking off of the names of those no longer grown. It also recommended members to have new varieties promptly registered.

After the business of the session had been finished, Mr. William Swaine of Kennett Square, Pa., read a paper on "Carnations From the Cutting to the Field." The paper gave valuable suggestions to growers as to soil, houses, temperature, etc., and was listened to with much interest. At its close an animated discussion ensued.

The society will meet again this afternoon and will banquet at the Hotel Brunswick this evening, as the guests of the Boston Gardeners' and Florists' Club. Sessions will also be held tomorrow morning and afternoon. All the meetings interesting papers will be read.

The grand exhibition of carnations is being held at the Hotel Brunswick.

Two reports were received from the committee on liquor laws on each of the bills designed to strengthen the prohibitory law, and they were especially assigned for next Thursday forenoon. The Senate passed the bills amending the charter of the Mt. Washington Railway Company, protecting the health of females employed in manufacturing establishments, and relating to the sale of adulterated butter, oleomargarine and imitation butter.

ASK FOR GUARDIANSHIP.

Citizens of Holyoke Want a Board of Police to Purify Their Politics.

The committee on cities at the State House this morning gave an extended hearing on the proposed act to place the control of the police force of the city of Holyoke under the license commission of that city, and to change the name of the commission to that of the board of police.

Senator Whitcomb of Holyoke, Mayor Henry A. Chase of Holyoke, Judge W. B. C. Plerson of the police court of Holyoke, A. A. Coburn, chairman of the Republican city committee of that city, W. G. Dwight, editor of the Holyoke Transcript, A. W. Eggleck of the Holyoke school committee, James H. Newton, ex-Senator Levi Perkins of Holyoke and others appeared in favor of the bill, in which certain changes were proposed by Senator Whitcomb.

It was charged that the city government of Holyoke is corrupt and suggested that the appointment of a police board by the Governor in this particular line beyond the reach of political influence appeared as a remedy to the city government. The time of hearing the remonstrants was postponed to Feb. 27.

ARRESTS OF FREQUENTERS.

How Police Hope to Break up the Pool Joints of the City.

The Senate judiciary committee at the State House this forenoon heard petitions interested in a bill authorizing police officials to search places used for registering bets, arrest of frequenters, etc.

B. B. Johnson, who appeared in charge of the bill, introduced Deputy Superintendent W. H. Pierce of police headquarters, who said his greatest trouble is in getting evidence against proprietors of pool rooms where betting on horse races takes place. He can do nothing with the people present and all evidence is destroyed or hidden when the police come in. Authority to arrest frequenters will break up the places.

Capt. Warren of division 4 agreed with Capt. Pierce as to getting evidence and added that by keeping officers stationed at the places used for such purposes not a pool room exists in Boston today so far as he knew.

G. C. McNell of the state police, Lieut. Henley of division 2 and others endorsed the bill. There was no opposition to the bill, which will probably be reported by the committee.

interest on money loaned, and then it idiotically allows the money lender to charge what he pleases by neglecting to make it an offence to charge a higher rate of interest.
"There is a remedy for this state of affairs and you are asked to provide it.
In justice to the poor people who are daily robbed, and for the sake of cleaner methods in the control of the money lenders, we ask you to recommend this bill to the Legislature.
"To summarize this bill before you.
It defines what a pawnbroker is, it compels him to pay a good license fee so that undesirable people are kept out of the licenses. The pawnbroker is obliged to give a bond to be forfeited if he violates the terms of the license. An official of the police department is placed in charge of the licensed pawnbrokers
and is responsible for their character.
He is expected to investigate every applicant and report whether he should be allowed to carry on business.
"The chief feature of the bill is the penalty which has been killed in the past by the money of the pawnbrokers.
Civil remedy is out of reach of poor people in these cases.
"There has been no strong opposition to this bill. The honest men in the pawnbroking business are heartily in favor of its passage. It satisfies all their honorable demands in allowing them to let their money at a fair rate of interest.
Chief Inspector Watts was called. In his opinion the time had come for some such legislation as proposed to regulate the business of pawnbrokers, which is at the present time being carried on in a reckless manner. He told the committee of the evasions of law referred to by Mr. Gallivan. He denied the statement that the police condemned the offences of pawnbrokers, although the latter had given much assistance in the detection of criminals.
Mr. Wilson, speaking for the Plumbers' Union, argued in favor of the bill.
Ship and robbery which the poor had suffered under the existing law.
John F. O'Sullivan, president of the Central Labor Union, was in favor of the bill, although he would like to see certain sections made even stronger.
Mr. E. F. Hall said that undoubtedly there was a class of people who are in the business at present making trouble.
He thought that he with the board of police, could frame a law which would remedy the abuses now existing. He objected to practically all the provisions of the Gallivan bill. He said it was based on the New York law and that the law is almost completely ignored
there. He further stated that the law proposed was undoubtedly unconstitutional,
but would not have the desired effect.
At this point the hearing was postponed in order to allow the police commissioners to submit their substitute
bill.
SUPERVISION OF TELEPHONE.
Hearing on Bill Providing for Commission to Watch Companies.
The committee on mercantile affairs
at the State House this forenoon, gave a hearing on three bills which provide for the supervision of telephone companies by commissions.
One bill provided for a telephone commission, another for a telephone and telegraph commission, and a third for the supervision of telephone companies
by the gas and electric light commissioners.
Mr. Bliss of West Springfield, who introduced the bill for the appointment of a telephone commission, said he would be satisfied with either of the bills before the committee, all that he wanted
was a remedy.

mittes room when Representative Hathaway explained his bill to the committee.
He said that in all such questions as
this, two sides were to be considered,
what was fair to the corporations and what was fair to the people. He said that he honestly believed that large cities
like Boston could save much if the municipality did its own lighting. The people should have the right anyway. The corporations would not suffer at all, for the people could be trusted to act fairly.
Ex-Gov. Russell and Mr. Burdett spoke briefly in remonstrance. Such legislation was uncalled for in their opinion. It is not advantageous to citizens, and many of them would not go into the business anyway. The municipalities would be burdened with contingent liabilities which they do not have to carry now. Besides they do not be eminently unfitted to the corporations
who have invested heavily in plants
and are giving good service.
Previous to the hearing on this matter Counsel C. P. Greenough of the Boston Gaslight Company asked permission to make a statement. This being granted, he said that he had submitted to his company the recommendations and amendments suggested at the hearing on Monday on the bill to authorize the consolidation of the Boston with certain other gas companies.
The company would not object to any of those amendments.
In reference to the suggestion that a provision be inserted that the price of gas be uniform throughout the districts embraced by the consolidation,
he said that, of course, this was a sensuous question. It would mean a net loss to his company for the first year of $25,000.
As had been suggested by the committee at the last hearing, however,
the increase in consumption would make up this deficit in the succeeding years. Therefore his company would not oppose such a provision.
PUBLIC DOCKS AND WHARVES.
Committee on Public Affairs Completes Its Hearings.
The committee on metropolitan affairs at the State House, this forenoon, completed its hearings on the matter of public docks for the vicinity of Boston.
Mr. Pierre Humbert, who addressed the committee yesterday, was prepared to continue this forenoon, having special reference in what he said to the reacquisition by the commonwealth of the East Boston flats, but Chairman Sanger said that inasmuch as the committee is simply considering the matter of the advisability of appointing a commission to investigate the whole subject, and inasmuch as any bill that is reported will include a provision for an investigation of the whole subject, it did not seem worth while to take the time to listen to matters which would have to be repeated before a commission.
Mr. Darwin E. Ware, therefore, made his closing argument and the hearing closed.
BANK AND BANKING MATTERS.
William A. Gaston, John Wales and Weston K. Lewis of Boston appeared before the committee on banks and banking at the State House, this morning, in favor of incorporating the Fidelity Trust Company. There was no opposition.
The committee also considered the matter of incorporating the Walpole Savings Bank. J. J. Feeley speaking in favor of the proposed action.
CONCERNING COMMON SEWERS.
The committee on drainage, at the State House, this morning, decided to

AT THE BOSTON LATIN SCHOOL
Patriotic Exercises Held Today—Address
by Rev. G. A. Gordon.
The patriotic services at the Boston
Latin school today were quite elaborate, and attracted a large number of the friends of the scholars.
Rev. S. F. Smith was down on the programme to deliver an address, but he was unable to be present, and Rev.
G. A. Gordon of the Old South took his place.
The order of exercises was as follows:
"Piano solo, Mr. C. J. Capen; reading, K. Bryant; recitation, "Washington's Vows," J. F. McDermott; college song,
"The Party at Odd Fellows' Hall," C.
R. Lamson and class of '95; class oration, J. M. Gallis; vocal selection, O.
Packard; class of 1900; violin solo, C.
Ogman; class poem, G. W. Fuller;
class song, music, E. H. Sears, words, G. W. Fuller. Dr. F. Urquhart, Jr., and
class of '95; poison ivy oration, E. H.
Sears; address, Rev. G. A. Gordon.
At the conclusion of the exercises the school battalion gave an exhibition drill.
SOUTH BOSTON.
The funeral of Thomas Reeves, musical director of the Perkins Institution, will be held from the institution on Broadway Saturday afternoon. They will be private, and none but the immediate relatives will be present.
In the local court this morning, Judge
Fallon presiding, Samuel Wheeler, vagrant, was sentenced to three months in the house of industry. John W.
Riley, drunkenness, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction. Richard Good was charged with assault and battery and discharged. The members of the ten Broadway Universalist Church will hold an entertainment in the vestry tomorrow afternoon
in honor of Washington.
Mr. Peter F. Green was tendered a complimentary reception in Bethesda
Hall last evening.
The fourth annual banquet of the Hart School Alumnae Association was held at the school hall last evening, and fully 200 were in attendance. An enjoyable entertainment was given.
Under the direction of Frank S. Richardson, the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Joseph Richardson; vice-president, Frank L. Richardson; treasurer, George A. Logan; secretary, Joseph Emerson; auditor, Harry Spring.
The members of the Monday school of four feet long leading aft and bolstered the stem head.

The cooping of the vessel has been carried out carefully and is a light thin coating, with fine surface, the nail heads being counter sunk. By way of protection to the under part of the stem, where it takes the curves from the knuckle, there is fitted for several feet a light casting of brass, which gives a strong and very sharp under cut water.
The Alisa had her mast stepped in the Anchor line basin yesterday.
The writer had a long interview with Capt. John Barr, who is now at Gourock. Capt. Barr has been visiting companions, and many of his old yachting
the latter he had an interview with Mr. G. J. Watson. Although interesting, the interview did not touch on the subject of the new Valkyrie, Capt.
Barr considering it judicious not to broach that subject.
In the yard of the Messrs. Inglis, last week, and had a run over the vessel.
He was very much struck with the outline and general appearance of the vessel. Queried as to what most struck him regarding the vessel, he replied: "I think, perhaps, the first thing that caught my eye on going on board the Alisa was the similarity of her deck dimensions to that of the "Vigilant. Forward she also greatly resembles the Vigilant, and has a beautifully easy entrance and fine run."
"She is a very small underbody boat
and will displace very little water."
"I think about her lead."
"I consider that no big boat has ever had her lead so much condensed. The great take in her stern's post leads the keel well forward, and with a bulky hull, she is able to make a fast run.
pleased by the lead is the shortest I have ever seen, considering the great length of the vessel's upper body."
"Taking the vessel all in all, do you think she will be a fast boat?"
"The Alisa cannot fail, I think, to be a fast boat and along and down she practically very little to drive through the water. I think the Alisa's weight-trim, and distribution of sail spread,
work out right, and she proves fast to windward, then I consider she will not prove a craft to be easily disposed of. I will have an opportunity, however, before I leave Scotland, of seeing the Alisa afloat, and before giving a final opinion regarding her I would like to see her in motion. There is one thing sure; young Fife has put his best foot forward and produced an up-to-date vessel, which, in good hands, should be heard from in the coming season.
The Watson 40 is now in course of planking in the Messrs. Henderson yard and near her the lead of the keel is being run for the Valkyrie. The general features of the 40 which is an out-and-out racer, are considered by many to give an indication of what the new Valkyrie will be, as the Fairlie 40-racer
and the Alisa are practically the same design.
The Watson 40 has her lead well condensed in almost a square-like chunk.
It is dropped to a deep heel by what is practically dead wood. It has a very decided rise.
There is no more straightforward criticism of his son's work than the elder Fife,
and the fact that the design and construction of the Alisa have received the favorable primatur of the head of the Fairlie firm is a sufficient guarantee that the new boat is not a faulty looking craft, but rather a production of some calibre.
Mr. Fife, Sr.'s favorable opinion is almost universally backed up by yachting authorities, and even Capt. Duncan, who is a Watsonite out and out, acknowledged that his opinion is in favor of the new boat, at least, so far as appearance and general outline goes. As to matters of weights and details, he like any one who has followed the designing and sailing of racing yachts of late years, knows that much depends on the minutiae of the boats, spar plan and gearing and rigging of the vessels, to insure the manipulation in the
of her, to insure the leading card in the Portalis, five years; MM. Girard and Heflier, each two years; M. Declercq, 15 months, and M. Dreyfus one year.

PARIS, Feb. 21, 1895. Several of the Paris newspapers this morning, publish attacks upon Baron Cromer, British agent and consul in Egypt, for his atti- tude toward the Khedive.

The Solle deeply laments the apathy of France in regard to Egypt, and ex- presses hope that she may speedily be- come aroused.

FLASHES.

The influenza is spreading rapidly in London. Lord Dunraven's name heads the long list of distinguished patients in the newspapers.

The Druses in North Syria continue turbulent. They recently attacked the house of the sub-governor of the Hama- ran district and forced him to flee to Damascus.

In deference to protests from Sir Philip Currie, British ambassador, the porte has commanded the Governor of Beirut to revoke his orders forbid- ding tourists to visit the interior.

A London dispatch says that James Braund of the Bank of Montreal died yesterday.

Francis Leblin, who started the movement to found the Imperial Fed- eration League, and was made the league's secretary, died yesterday at Harrow.

SHOCK HANDS WITH LAFAYETTE.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart of Malden Cele- brates Her 87th Birthday.

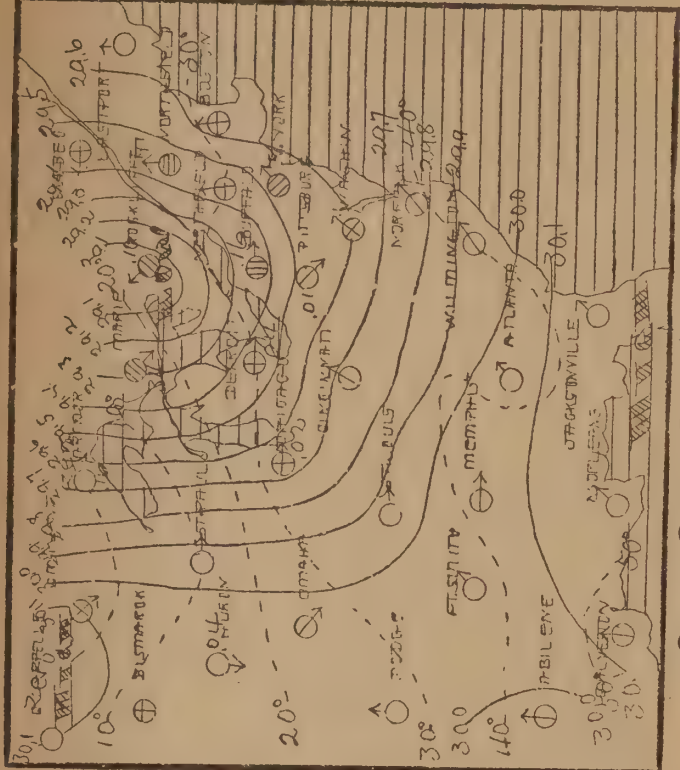

Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart of Malden cel- ebrated her 87th birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Bell, on Ransom court, yesterday. A large num- ber of friends called during the day and extended congratulations. She was pre- sented with a purse of gold.

Mrs. Stewart was born in Marblehead, and has been a member of the Boston Baptist Bethel for 70 years. She shook hands with Lafayette when he visited this country, and during the Mexican and civil wars she spent all her spare time at the Old South Church, Boston, picking lint.

WEYMOUTH TOWN AFFAIRS.

The following statistics are taken from the advance sheets of the annual town report of Weymouth: Amount of appropriation, $153,433.62; amount ex- pended, $128,583.33; unexpended balance, $23,872.58; schools, $42,081.28; police, $238.43; suppressing illegal sale of liq- uor, $455.00; poor, $3482.55; Tufts Li- brary, $2706.71; fire department, $4073.09; electric lighting, $5031.23; number of births, 237; deaths, 195; marriages, 95; number of marriages, 95.

From Observations by United States Weather Bureau, Taken at 8 A. M. 75th Meridian.

EXPLANATION. The arrow flies with the wind. The figures at stations, if any, indicate amount of rainfall or melted snow in inches and hundredths during the past 24 hours. Isobars, or continuous black lines, pass through points of equal atmo- spheric pressure; isotherms, or dotted lines, equal temperature. Storm areas, rain, snow, hot and cold waves generally move from west to east in atmospheric waves. On the map the crests of these waves are marked "high," and the valleys, or depressions, "low." These move on an average of 600 miles per day. The latter are usually preceded or accompanied by rain or snow, high winds, rising temperature after the passage of the "low" and the approach of the "high" clearing weather, low temperature and sometimes a cold wave; the high winds shifting to westerly.

HERALD'S SUMMARY.

The storm continues of much energy, with high south to west winds in its southern and western quadrants. The precipitation is light and confined to northern New England, the St. Lawrence valley, and lower lake region.

Elsewhere the weather is fair, with lower temperatures in the upper valleys.

LOCAL FORECAST

For Boston and vicinity until Friday night: Generally fair today; fair Fri- day; slightly colder Friday night; south, shifting to west winds.

UNDER THE WRONG PILLOW.

Money Said to Belong to Bridget Horrigan Found in Mrs. Maloney's House.

Mrs. Bridget Horrigan of Mechanics street, Canton, lost $40 yesterday which had been paid her by the town in liqui- dation of a claim allowed her on fall- ing upon the sidewalk a year ago.

Mrs. Horrigan has been confined to the bed ever since the accident, and, upon receiving the money yesterday from her counsel, Peter Daley, she placed it under her pillow.

She had two visitors during the after- noon, and suspicion fell on one of them, Mrs. Margaret Maloney of Bolivar street.

Officers Kelley and Plunket aroused Mrs. Maloney from her bed and found the money concealed in the pillow slips, there being four $100 bills. They also found in the stove the steel clasp of the small pocketbook which had been taken from Mrs. Horrigan with the money. The remainder of the pocket- book had been burned.

HOTEL SCHEME IN HUDSON.

(Special Dispatch to the Boston Herald.) HUDSON, Feb. 21, 1895. It is stated that a fine new hotel building of brick and stone is one of the probable im- provements in the near future here, as Congressman L. D. Apsley, Representa- tive Henry Tower and other leading citizens have become interested in the scheme. The site desired for such a structure is at the head of Wood square and on the territory devastated by fire last July.

It is rumored that Landlord George T. Holden, now of the Preston House, Marlboro, and formerly of the Mansion
